Re: RFP 646135 Award Status

---

Whitney,

The evaluation committee for the above referenced RFP met on September 27, 2017, to review and discuss proposals received for Wearable Remote-Controllable LED Technology. Proposals were received from the following vendors:

1. CrowdSync Technology
2. HotB Software Solutions

During the course of the review, and after discussion by the committee, it was determined that the products and technology proposed did not meet the requirements and expectations that were desired. It was determined that the technology and integration purposed by the above mentioned vendors would put an unnecessary burden on Athletic's event staff. We have determined that is in the best interest of the University of Arkansas not to award on RFP646135.
